

Blind Tiger Brewery & Restaurant

The Blind Tiger Brewery & Restaurant cares about the environment and actively seeks to be responsible.

- The spent grain (barley mash) from our brewing process is given to a local buffalo rancher for animal feed.
- We compost our spent hops and add them back to the soil in our on-site organic hop garden.
- We compost the pads from our cold-filter for the Blind Tiger Beer into the soil of our organic hop garden.
- The vegetable oil from our fryers is recycled into bio-diesel.
- Our new parking lot to the south was constructed with recycled concrete from the historic Topeka Blvd. Bridge.
- Most cardboard used at the Blind Tiger Brewery is recycled.
- We have been actively working on our Historic Stone Farm House (built onto at least six times) to decrease our use of energy for cooling and heating.
- We have upgraded the refrigeration system in our ice house which chills the Blind Tiger Beer which has resulted in saving thousands of gallons of water each month.
- We have installed programmable thermostats to control energy use when the building is unoccupied.
- We are replacing incandescent bulbs with compact florescent bulbs wherever it is practical, decreasing our energy use.

We are committed to finding ways to further reduce water and energy use overall and will continue to find ways to be an environmentally friendly partner of the community.

The Blind Tiger Brewery & Restaurant is named for the Prohibition-era custom of drinking establishments displaying stuffed tigers or china tigers to alert potential patrons of the availability of illicit alcohol after hours. In southern dialect a "tiger" was a roaring party. These "tigers" were "blind" because the authorities, at least officially, did not know they existed.
